

TAXABLE AND NON-TAXABLE INCOME

TAXABLE - Qualifying wages, salaries, commissions and other compensation paid by an employer or employers before deductions: sick pay; vacation pay; income from wage continuation plans (retirement incentive plans regardless of when it was paid or where it was received); deferred compensation; stock options (when exercised on the amount indicated on the W-2 form and regardless of when it was paid or where it was received); cost of group term life insurance over $50,000; severance pay (regardless of when it was paid or where it was received); compensation paid in property or the use thereof at fair market value to the same extent as indicated on a W-2 form; tips; contributions made by or on behalf of employees to any type of tax-deferred annuity (401K); stipends; income from guaranteed annual wage contracts; bonuses; director's fees; income from jury duty; supplemental unemployment pay; union steward fees; strike benefits; ordinary income from Form 4797 and net profits from the operation of a business, profession, or other enterprise or activity; prizes; gambling winnings (losses are not deductible).

NON-TAXABLE - Military pay (including reserve pay); alimony; capital gains; interest; dividend; social security benefits; workers' compensation; state unemployment benefits; insurance benefits; third party disability pay; welfare payments; pension income; patent and copyright income; royalties (if derived from intangible property); annuities (at time of distributions); meals and lodging; government allotments; and profit sharing from qualified plans.